

We're Going on a Bear Hunt 19/11/24

To enrich children's experiences by providing real-life opportunities of stories, we went on a real bear hunt in the garden this morning. Something magical happened overnight—it had snowed, so we were able to explore a real snowstorm too. We went through the different scenes in the story exploring grass, mud, river, snowstorm and a forest. We then went on to find the bear in a cave. The Bear was feeling sad because he was lost. We spoke about how the bear might be feeling and thinking about ways how we could make the bear feel differently.

“Outdoors is different to 'indoors' and that is exactly why it matters to children” - Jan White